Elizabeth Zimmerman Named Executive Committee Chair for Emergency Management Leaders Conference

- June 12-14, 2018 in Tampa, FL -

The first edition of the Emergency Management Leaders Conference (EMLC) welcomes former FEMA Associate Administrator and Assistant Director of the Arizona Division of Emergency Management Elizabeth Zimmerman as its Executive Advisory Committee Chair for its inaugural event in Tampa, Florida.

With over 30 years of experience, Zimmerman is a nationally recognized leader in emergency management who has led response and recovery operations for over 400 major disasters and 70 disaster declarations at the state and federal levels. It is that expertise that led to a Presidential appointment to FEMA in 2009. She was also appointed as the Department of Homeland Security's representative to the American Red Cross Cabinet Council and to committee leadership positions within the National Emergency Management Association (NEMA).

“With the many catastrophic events the United States has recently experienced, it is time emergency management leaders come together to ensure we as the whole community are on the right path moving forward with policy.”, said Zimmerman. “EMLC is the place to make this happen.”

EMLC is a national forum for renowned experts in all phases of both public and private sector Emergency Management as well as disciplines related to disaster preparation, response, recovery, and mitigation. The two-day event analyzes real-world situations as a point of departure for emergency management professionals to discuss recent events, current issues, best practices, and lessons learned in order to outline potential policy and law modifications geared at strengthening future event preparedness and response efforts.

The Emergency Management Leaders Conference EMLC is produced by Perfect World Inc in cooperation with the International Association of Emergency Managers (IAEM) and National Emergency Managers Association (NEMA).
